CLIP ART + DESIGN ELEMENTS

CLIP ART are graphics used to illustrate any medium for personal, educational or commercial use. DESIGN ELEMENTS enhance a project and are (but not limited to) digital images, borders, digital paper, frames, fonts, etc. and cannot be sold as stand alone graphics. The purchase of any clip art (sets) or design elements include a standard single user license, which allows only you, the buyer, to use the graphics for personal, educational or limited commercial use as stated in the details below. Friends, family, business partners or co-workers will need to purchase a separate license to use the graphics for personal, educational or commercial use.

PERSONAL USE: Clip Art and Design Elements are good to use on personalized printed paper products (stationery, cards, tags, party sets, invitations, wall art), printed craft projects (scrapbooking, bookmarks, games, puppets, stickers), digital projects (ecards, digital invites) and other personal creative projects. Your personal projects cannot be sold and used for profit.

EDUCATIONAL USE: Clip Art and Design Elements are good to use on school related items and educational resources for SALE or FREE on your blog or shop (Teachers Pay Teachers, Educents, Teacher's Notebook) and must have a clear educational purpose. Graphics cannot be sold as coloring books, coloring pages, printable stationery/paper products that is not part of a lesson or activity, isolated graphics, plain graphics, icons, repeating patterns, grouped images, puppets or products that do not have a strong educational theme. Graphics must be used only as a means to enhance your educational products and not as the main component.

COMMERCIAL USE: Clip Art graphics are good for limited commercial use to create digital printable files that must be secured using a password in a PDF file or a flattened JPG, and the graphics are to enhance your end product (a new, original resource or design created by you). Design Elements can be used on commercial printing and business end products (banners, logos, web design, blog design and branding for you or your client) but cannot be sold as stand alone graphics. There is no need to give credit when using graphics for business branding, except for use on web or blog designs, which requires credit using my link or button.

Clip Art graphics cannot be used for wholesale or commercial printing (printed paper products, greeting cards, stationery, textile and fabric designs) and digital products (digital downloads, digital paper, digital cards and e-cards) for sale on ETSY, CAPEPRESS, ZAZZLE or similar websites without purchasing a complete license. Graphics cannot be sold as printable graphics alone (borders, frames, icons), plain graphics, repeating patterns or grouped images and cannot be the main focus of your design.

To use Clip Art graphics for COMMERCIAL PRINTING a purchase of a complete license is required, which allows for wide flexibility on wholesale, commercial printing and digital products for unlimited sales. The complete license use do not allow for my graphics to be resold, sub-licensed, shared, transferred or redistributed on its own (even for free) and they must be a complement to your end products.

ABOUT LICENSING

HELLO, AGAIN.

EDUCATIONAL MATERIALS*

Educational Materials are used at home or in a classroom setting as learning materials for students and are (but not limited to) printables, worksheets, lesson plans, booklets, printable games, etc. They cannot be resold, redistributed or used in any way to make a profit.

PERSONAL USE: Educational Materials are good for supplemental learning materials at home, church or non-profit and cannot be used for casual sharing with friends and family.

EDUCATIONAL USE: Educational Materials are good for supplemental learning materials at school, church or non-profit and cannot be used for casual sharing with other teachers, educators or classrooms.

COMMERCIAL USE: ALL Educational Materials are good to use in commercial or business use that do not result in a profit or monetary gain. For example, you may use a lesson plan in your daycare or share the link to it on your blog with your viewers.

FREEBIES

PERSONAL + EDUCATIONAL USE ONLY: All free files are for personal or educational purposes only and they cannot be redistributed, copied or resold. There are no limits to the numbers of pages that you can print out for each download. If sharing any of them online, please give credit by providing a link or button to the item from my Teachers Pay Teachers (TpT) shop or my blog.

COPYRIGHT

All clip art, graphics, design elements and resources are creative property of Saroum V Giroux and cannot be resold or redistributed. Personal, educational and commercial products must be secured as a flattened JPG (no transparent PNG background) or secured using a password PDF file. For blog use or online sharing, credit is required by providing a link or button to the product, my TpT shop or my blog. Images cannot be uploaded directly to your blog or shared as single images on a blog post, since this will make the images vulnerable to theft by your viewers. I'm hoping all viewers know that stealing isn't cool and respect the time of artists and designers.

FEEDBACK

Your positive feedback is greatly appreciated! Encouragement, suggestions and ideas are welcomed. Thank you for your business and I hope that you enjoy my designs and products!
