

HELLO!

Thank you for downloading my resources and/or graphics! I am really excited and grateful for your support. I delight in creating resources that will nurture creativity and foster a curiosity for art, as well graphics that will enhance your projects. I hope that you enjoy my resources! If you do, please take a moment to rate them and provide your valued feedback. If you have any questions or ideas, send me an email at doodlethinks@gmail.com and I'll be glad to help.

Have a wonderful day and a fun, creative journey! ♥ Saroum

GRAPHICS: CLIP ART + DESIGN ELEMENTS (SINGLE USER LICENSE)

The purchase of any clip art and design element graphics include a standard single user license, which allows only you, the buyer, to use the graphics for personal, educational or limited commercial use as stated in the details below. Friends, family, business partners or co-workers will need to purchase a separate license to use the graphics for personal and educational commercial use. For more information on commercial needs please contact me to discuss a complete commercial license agreement.

PERSONAL USE: Use graphics for anything personal and non-commercial with no restrictions. Your projects cannot be used for profit.

EDUCATIONAL (COMMERCIAL) USE: This license covers use in educational resources that are for sale and free. Graphics are good to use on school related items and educational resources for SALE or FREE on your blog or shop and must have a clear educational purpose. Graphics cannot be sold as coloring books, coloring pages, printable stationery/paper products not part of a lesson or activity, isolated graphics, plain or decorative graphics, icons, repeating patterns, grouped images, puppets or products that do not have a strong educational theme. Graphics must be used only as a means to enhance your educational products and not as the main component.

EDUCATIONAL RESOURCES

Educational resources are used at home or in a classroom setting as learning materials for students and are (but not limited to) printables, worksheets, lesson plans, booklets, printable games, etc. They cannot be resold, redistributed or used in any way to make a profit.

PERSONAL USE: Educational resources are good for supplemental learning materials at home, church or non-profit and cannot be used for casual sharing with friends and family.

EDUCATIONAL USE: Educational resources are good for supplemental learning materials at school, church or non-profit and cannot be used for casual sharing with other teachers, educators or classrooms.

COMMERCIAL USE: ALL educational resources are good to use in commercial or business use that do not result in a profit or monetary gain. They cannot be resold, redistributed or used in any way to make a profit. For example, you may use a drawing resource in your daycare as your daycare is a place of business and the resource should only be used in the context of learning rather than for profit.

FREEBIES

PERSONAL + EDUCATIONAL USE ONLY: All free files are for personal or educational purposes only and they cannot be redistributed, copied or resold. There are no limits to the numbers of pages that you can print out for each download. If sharing any of them online, please give credit by providing a link or button to the item from my blog/website or my Teachers Pay Teachers (TpT) shop.

COPYRIGHT

All graphics (clip art/design elements) and resources are creative property of Saroum V Giroux and cannot be resold or redistributed. Personal, educational and commercial products must be secured as a flattened JPG (no transparent PNG background) or secured using a password PDF file. For blog use or online sharing, credit is required by providing a link or button to the item from my blog/website or TpT shop. The graphics cannot be uploaded directly to your blog or shared as single images on a blog post, since this will make the images vulnerable to theft by your viewers. I'm hoping all viewers know that stealing is not kind and respect the time of artists and designers.
